

Mark J. Prudente

32 W Lodges Ln
Bala Cynwyd, PA 19004

Mobile: (570) 267-5179
Email: mark.prudente@gmail.com

QUALIFICATIONS PROFILE:

Highly skilled, dedicated and patient-focused CRNA with proven strengths in acute patient care

- Capable of managing numerous competing priorities while maintaining quality patient care
- Demonstrates effective interpersonal and communication skills to ensure quality care
- Utilizes critical thinking skills essential to providing competent patient care
- Able to problem solve independently and positively collaborate with colleagues
- Strong analytical skills to assess conditions and implement appropriate interventions

EMPLOYMENT EXPERIENCE:

Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist – Locum tenens November 2024 – present
Cooper University Hospital, Camden NJ

- Formulate and perform preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative anesthetic plan for diverse patient population in different clinical locations; including level 1 trauma center and off-site anesthetizing locations
- Surgical services include: Trauma, Neurosurgery, Urology, Thoracic, GYN, Orthopedics, Vascular, General, Plastics, ENT, Bariatric, Endoscopy, and Electrophysiology
- Administer MAC, general, and spinal anesthesia according to surgical needs and patient comorbidities

Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist – PRN October 2024 – present
Physicians Care Surgical Hospital, Royersford PA

- Formulate and perform preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative anesthetic plan for diverse patient population in outpatient surgery center
- Surgical services include: GYN, Orthopedics, Ophthalmology and ENT
- Administer MAC, general, and spinal anesthesia according to surgical needs and patient comorbidities

Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist – Locum tenens July 2024 – present
Reading Hospital, Reading PA

- Formulate and perform preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative anesthetic plan for diverse patient population in different clinical locations; including level 1 trauma center and off-site anesthetizing locations
- Surgical services include: Trauma, Neurosurgery, Urology, GYN, Orthopedics, Vascular, General, Plastics, ENT, Bariatric, Endoscopy, Ophthalmology and Electrophysiology
- Administer MAC, general, and spinal anesthesia according to surgical needs and patient comorbidities

Mark J. Prudente

Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist – Locum tenens

April 2022 – June 2024

Penn State Health St. Joseph Medical Center, Reading PA

- Formulate and perform preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative anesthetic plan for diverse patient population in different clinical locations; including 204 bed acute care hospital and off-site anesthetizing locations
- Surgical services include: Cardiac surgery, Neurosurgery, Urology, OB/GYN, Orthopedics, Vascular, General, Plastics, Endoscopy, and Electrophysiology
- Provide 24 hour in house call; responding to airway emergencies, inserting arterial lines, and placing central lines during off hours
- Administer MAC, general, and spinal anesthesia according to surgical needs and patient comorbidities

Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist

June 2018 – April 2022

University of Pennsylvania Health System, Philadelphia PA

- Formulate and perform preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative anesthetic plan for diverse patient population in different clinical locations; including level I trauma center, outpatient surgical center, and off-site anesthetizing locations
- Surgical services include: Trauma, Urology, Gynecology, Orthopedics, Vascular, Thoracic Surgery, ENT, Neurosurgery, General, Plastics, Bariatrics, Endoscopy, and Electrophysiology
- Administer MAC, general, and spinal anesthesia according to surgical needs and patient comorbidities

Clinical Nurse II – Medical Intensive Care Unit

June 2013 – June 2016

Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia PA

- Provided direct care for diverse population of complex, critically ill patients
- Demonstrated ability to interpret arterial blood gases, monitored patients on vasopressive medications and IV sedation, cared for ventilated patients, and patients requiring hypothermia protocol for post cardiac arrest
- Planned, managed and assessed care, administered medication and treatment, participated in and maintained record of codes
- Collaborated with interdisciplinary team to develop care plan for each patient

Clinical Practice Nurse – Penn Lung Center

October 2011 – June 2013

Perelman Center for Advanced Medicine, Philadelphia PA

- Provided treatment, evaluation, education and other patient services in the ambulatory care setting for patients with cystic fibrosis, bronchiectasis, interstitial lung disease, and other complex chronic pulmonary diseases
- Performed telephone triage; evaluated patients' conditions over the telephone and triaged appropriately; evaluated patients' needs and assisted with patient care

Mark J. Prudente

- Initiated immunosuppressive therapy and monitored critical lab results, monitored patients while on home IV therapy

Clinical Nurse II – Medical Intensive Care Unit

December 2010 – October 2011

Penn Presbyterian Medical Center, Philadelphia PA

- Provided direct care for diverse population of complex critically ill patients
- Experienced in insertion of nasogastric tubes, drawing arterial blood gases, care of arterial lines, care for ventilated patients, monitored patients on vasopressive medications and IV sedation
- Planned, managed, and assessed care, administered medication and treatment, participated in and maintained record of codes
- Prioritized clinical problems accurately and in a timely manner

Clinical Nurse II - Bone Marrow Transplant

October 2007 – December 2010

Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia PA

- Provided direct care for patients with hematologic malignancies including leukemia, lymphoma, multiple myeloma and aplastic anemia
- Fulfilled role of charge nurse, responsible for 7 nurses and 3 nursing assistants
- Evaluated staffing requirements, and floor assignments, and organized unit activities for a 28 bed unit
- Member of Unit Council, which enhanced patient care, communicated council activities to staff and constructively decided upon solutions to relevant unit issues

EDUCATION:

Drexel University, Philadelphia, PA

Post Master's Certificate in Nurse Anesthesia, January 2016 - May 2018

Wilkes University, Wilkes-Barre, PA

Professional Master of Science Degree with Nursing major, August 2007

University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA

Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology, April 2006

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS:

American Association of Nurse Anesthetists - 2016 – present

AWARDS:

Employee of the Quarter for the Clinical Practices of the University of Pennsylvania - 2nd quarter, fiscal year 2013

CERTIFICATIONS

BLS

Mark J. Prudente

ACLS

PALS

PA Nursing license - RN598307

DE Nursing license – L1-0047828

DE CRNA license – L6-0A10890

NJ Nursing license - 26NR18461400

NJ APN license- 26NJ15160500

COMPUTER SKILLS

Software: Cerner Surginet Anesthesia, Sunrise Clinical Manager, Med View, EPIC, Microsoft Office